1st Responders - Safe Selective Shooter Course

Active shooters are a growing threat to public safety. Malls, airports, stadiums, train stations, and other public places are at risk of terrorist attack. Schools are particularly vulnerable, exposing their students and faculty members. To manage these threats effectively, immediate intervention is crucial. It is incumbent upon the first officers on the scene to contain and stop the threat.

The high density environment is one of the most challenging environments in which an officer can be called upon to operate. Unknown structures, crowded lines of fire, panic stricken bystanders, and the possibility of suspects hiding within, make it a complex task.

Standard tactics used with barricaded suspects have failed when applied against heavily armed individuals bent on self-destruction. Responding to an active shooter requires specific preparation and advanced firearm training. The Safe Selective Shooter program was developed to fulfill this need.

Through the use of innovative live fire training methods and advanced training scenarios, we prepare law enforcement personnel to quickly and safely stop an active shooter.
