I understand that Internet access is being made available to me at no cost by Colorado Northwestern Community College Library under the following conditions:

- Patrons will sign in and out at the computer station every time they use an Internet workstation.
- Patrons under the age of 18 will be denied Internet access unless accompanied by a parent or legal guardian. Dual-enrolled high school students who are taking at least 2 credit hours may have unsupervised access to the Internet.
- Patrons agree not to use the CNCC Library Internet computers to seek out, view or download pornographic or offensive materials. Any violation will result in immediate termination of Internet access privileges.
- Patrons agree to be quiet and respectful. Loud talk, obscenities, or an abusive manner are grounds for revoking Internet access.
- Patrons who are researching will be given preference over other users.
- CNCC students will be given access over other users.
